One day a MAN and a WOMAN went to the store looking for a NEW car. Their OLD one, which was a muddy BROWN, was not running well. It LEFT much to be desired in the way of speed and safety, and they wanted another one RIGHT away. They wanted a NEW RIGHT BLUE one.

As they walked into the car dealership, the WOMAN notice a BLUE sports car on the showroom floor. "Darling", she said, "Look at the lovely NEW car RIGHT over there. Wouldn't it be perfect for us?"

"You may be RIGHT. It's a lot better than our OLD BROWN buggy. Unfortunately there's one problem, I've LEFT all my money at home." said the MAN. "You LEFT it at home?" said the WOMAN. "Yes, it's RIGHT in the pocket of my NEW BROWN suit," said the MAN. "Your BROWN suit, why, I took that to the cleaners just this morning, and I didn't notice any money in the pockets," said the WOMAN. But I am certain I LEFT the money in the inside RIGHT pocket of my NEW BROWN suit," said the MAN.

"Now wait a minute. Are you saying I'm not RIGHT? Are you saying that I'm lying about this?" " MAN, oh MAN, oh MAN, oh," said the WOMAN. "Let's not argue," said the MAN. "We are here to look at cars, and that BLUE one in the corner is a RIGHT nice model. If we buy the NEW car, we'll never have to worry about our OLD BROWN one breaking down again."

After looking at the price of the NEW BLUE car, and figuring out what they could get as a trade on their OLD BROWN car, the MAN and the WOMAN decided buying the NEW car would be the RIGHT move for them. But before they LEFT the store, they started questioning their decision. Would they be better off with their OLD BROWN car if the NEW BLUE car didn't run RIGHT? Or what about a NEW BROWN one? How long before they thought of the NEW car as an OLD car? And would they ever feel BLUE about trading in their BROWN auto? BLUE or BROWN, OLD, or NEW, what was RIGHT and which car would they be LEFT with? The MAN and the WOMAN were so confused, that they decided to sell their car and buy themselves bicycles. And that's just what they did. Then they kNEW it was RIGHT...LEFT... RIGHT...LEFT... RIGHT...LEFT (keep this up, getting faster and faster with the audience applause ending the story).
